GCT demonstrated strong therapeutic expertise and management's capacity. GCT staff were very knowledgeable about the regulatory system in each country involved. They were able to offer the full support - from early feasibility and identification of the sites to implementation of the study. They are a hard-working group that produce results fast and deliver high quality work. They supported transparent and efficient team communication. All the important study updates were provided to us in a timely manner. The communication was always constructive and efficient, and solutions were offered for any issue encountered.

I am happy to recommend GCT as a solid CRO partner to any Pharma company planning to execute a clinical trial of any complexity.
